Survivors, Loved Ones & Communities

Dear Friends and Supporters,

This year has been one of the most difficult in PAAR's history. Across the Commonwealth, victim service agencies like ours have faced devastating funding cuts and the uncertainty of a prolonged state budget impasse. For months, organizations built to protect and support survivors were left to operate in crisis mode—stretching every dollar, every staff member, and every ounce of energy to ensure that no survivor was turned away.

And yet, through these trying times, PAAR never wavered. We continued to answer the 24-hour Helpline. We showed up in hospitals, in courtrooms, and in schools. We advocated fiercely in Harrisburg for increased funding, refusing to let the needs of survivors become invisible in political debates.

These are hard times—not only for nonprofits, but for the people we serve. The world feels increasingly unsafe. Violence, trauma, and injustice make headlines every day. For survivors, these constant reminders can reopen wounds that have never fully healed. But even in this climate of uncertainty, PAAR remains a place of hope and healing. Here, survivors find people who believe them, who fight for them, and who walk beside them through every step of their healing.

When the women who founded PAAR came together 53 years ago, they did so in a world that didn't want to hear or acknowledge sexual violence. They faced hostility, disbelief, and silence. But they refused to give up—and neither will we. Their courage is the foundation of everything we do.

We know the fight is far from over. But PAAR's story has always been one of persistence. Of standing firm when it would be easier to fall back. Of holding onto hope even when the systems around us fail. That spirit continues to guide us, sustain us, and inspire us to build a future where survivors are not only supported—but empowered.

To our staff, donors, and community: THANK YOU FOR STANDING WITH US THROUGH THIS DIFFICULT YEAR. Together, we will keep the promise made more than five decades ago—never to give up on survivors, and never to stop fighting for a world free from sexual violence.

With gratitude,
